ISSUE 25: OCT. 2020

HELLO CLASS OF 2022 FAMILIES

As we begin the month of October, we are beginning to wrap up Fall Semester Term 1. Like most of our students, we are eager to return to campus.

We currently have two weeks left in this term so please encourage your students to attend tutorials and after-school tutoring as needed.

As mentioned in Advisory, Junior year grades are a critical component of the college application process so let's make them count!

Your Grade Level Team,
Paula Ann Trevino, Hugo Gonzalez, Alondra Lopez-Barajas, and Joan Urich

AN UPDATE ON C4ME (COLLEGE 4 ME)

Junior year is typically an exciting time for our students as they are presented with the opportunity to attend C4ME. For many years, College for Me has allowed Helix Juniors the opportunity to embark on a week-long road trip during Spring Break up and down the California Coast to visit some of the colleges and universities this golden state has to offer.

With the announcement of CSU campuses closing to the public for the 2020-2021 school year, as a Grade Level Team we have made the decision to cancel our C4ME trip this year.

We have begun, and will continue to, look for opportunities to support your student's college endeavors through Advisory. We will also continue to host opportunities for students to meet with college recruiters through webinars hosted by Helix's College Center.

Please visit the Helix College Center's website for more information regarding college preparatory workshops, recordings of past College information sessions, and much more.

STUDENT ATTENDANCE

During Distance Learning, student attendance is tracked via student engagement in Distance Learning. Since students are not physically in a classroom, teachers track student attendance based on how much the student is engaged in the Synchronous (zoom) and Asynchronous (assigned in Canvas) work.

For classes that meet would normally meet every day, the expectation is for students to have 5-7 hours of engagement per course. Two of those hours can be through the Synchronous (zoom) classes. The remaining hours are from student submission or completion of the assigned Asynchronous work in Canvas and/or attending tutorial.

For classes that would normally meet every other day (A Day and B Day classes), the expectation is for students to have 3-5 hours of engagement per course. One of those hours can be through the Synchronous (zoom) class. The remaining hours are from student submission or completion of the assigned Asynchronous work in Canvas and/or attending tutorial.

Parents/Guardians will be notified via a phone caller if their student missed any of their Synchronous zoom classes. If your student is absent, having technical difficulties, and/or ill, please email or call the appropriate attendance technician to have the absence excused.

What we do:

LEDA brings together a community of student leaders for a completely free seven-week residential program at Princeton University that includes academic preparation for college, leadership training, college guidance based on individual fit, SAT/ACT preparation, help with college applications and scholarships, and a chance to experience life on a college campus. This year, the Aspects of Leadership Summer Institute was entirely virtual, and while we are planning for an in-person program in the Summer of 2021, we are fully prepared to offer a virtual program again if necessary.

LEDA is for life. After the summer institute, the LEDA team continues to work with Scholars intensively on all aspects of their college applications and their transition to and through college. The LEDA community is a network that will continue to provide support and opportunities beyond college graduation.

Why LEDA:

Students who attend our program feel more prepared to apply to selective colleges, pursue competitive scholarships, and make a positive impact on their communities with their leadership skills. Our individualized college guidance support has helped enroll 86% of LEDA Scholars in an Ivy League or Most Competitive college supported by excellent financial aid and scholarships.

Who should apply?

LEDA is looking for juniors in high school who want to be challenged academically, have demonstrated a commitment to their studies, have the desire to be a leader in their families, schools, and communities, and embody LEDA's core values of excellence, integrity, compassion, and community.

Applicants must be a junior attending a public high school in the U.S. graduating in 2022, a U.S. citizen, permanent resident, or have DACA Status, have an annual household income under $90,000, and a minimum unweighted GPA of 3.5.
